Attorney for Man Accused of Bootlegging Prefers a Wet Jury.

The trial of Harry L. White, necused of peddling booze among the soldiers at Leilehua by automobile, was begun in the federal court yesterday morning. Most of the morning was taken up in securing a jury, T. M. Harrison, who is White's lawyer, being anxious that there should be no prohibitionists on the jury. The quertions asked of pros-pective jurymen drew forth answers that indicate that it is not the politi-cians alone who are averse to stating cians alone who are averse to slating their position plainly on the prohibition question.

The case of the government is said to be considerably weakened by the absence of Lieutenant Quinlan, who was anxious to see the guilty man purished and who firmly believed White to be guilty. It is feared by the government that the private soldiers who might, if Quinlan had been here, have testified in favor of the prosecution, will be less eager to give their testimony now that he is no longer here to mony now that he is no longer here to encourage them to tell the truth, the cheourage them to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. The jury with which both the prosention and Attorney Harrison expressed themselves as satisfied is as follows: George T. Kluegel, George Gonsalves, B. F. Heilbron, Manuel C. Parheco, R. A. Withington, J. S. Fox, Olaf Omsted, J. Burns, Arthur Berg, Charles Bailey, C. R. Frazier and S. A. Baldwin.

Examination Rigorous.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—For two hours A. B. Spreckels was on the stand before the federal grand jury, inquiring into the methods of the sugar trust as practised in California, yesterday afternoon. To find out just what the methods of the trust are in parceling out territory so that the price of sugar is upheld equally in all parts of the Union, Knapp subjected Spreckels to a rigorous cross-examination.

Many disclosures were obtained from Many disclosures were obtained from the wealthy sugar man by the adroit questioning of Knapp. Up to date, the testimony given before the grand jury has practically shown that the trust governs the West equally with the East, and that the territory east of the Missouri River is distinct from the territory lying to the west. That the latter territory is divided up and supplied with sugar by certain refineries that are appointed to do so and that, in order that there shall be no chance of any competition, transportation rates of both raw and refined materials are allowed for in settling on the final selling price to the jobbers.

Diplomatic Circles Questioning if Preparations Are on Foot for War.

PARIS, April 27 .- The steady accumplation of gold by the Bank of France is arousing interest in diplomatic circles and the question is being asked if only attendant. She was gowned in a dainty lingeris robe of pale pink and carried an armful of pink roses.

Of this $142,600,000 was in gold, the greatest accomplation of gold by far ever held by any bank in the world. And still the accumulation of gold goes on. It is not unnatural, therefore, for diplomats to sak if France is quietly preparing for trembie.
